Collection creepiness

Katie, our Trainee Curator, thinks this homemade photo frame, which is over 100 years old, is the spookiest object in the museum.

Which object do you think is the spookiest?

About the frame

Private John William Aucott sent this frame, which would have been part of his Christmas dinner ration during World War One, to his mother. It is made from hard biscuits which could crack a soldier's teeth if they weren't soaked in water or tea before they were eaten. Soldiers would even write on them and use them as postcards!

Create your own character

In Where's Wally? books Wally is often joined by other characters. These include his girlfriend Wenda and his dog, Woof.

- Create a character based on yourself and draw this in the frame below. Think about an outfit and a particular object that you would carry with you at all times.
- Describe what your character would be like e.g. good, bad, funny, smart or sneaky.

Make Where's Wally?

glasses

You will need ·

- Black card or card of another colour
- Scissors
- Pencil
- Sticky tape

To make

1. Draw an outline of the glasses shape on the card in pencil and then cut them out.
2. Cut out the glasses.
3. Use sticky tape to attach the arms to the frames.

To finish your Where's Wally? costume, just add jeans, a red and white striped top, shoes and a stick to carry.

Creative Challenge

Find the spookiest thing in your house and either write about it or draw it in the frame below.

Make a Where's Wally? striped hat

You will need

- White woolly hat
- Red paper
- Double sided fabric tape

To make a stripe for Wally's hat

1. Cut a strip of red paper to make your stripe.
2. Attach pieces of double-sided fabric tape to your hat along the bottom. Pull off the top of the fabric tape.
3. Attach the red paper to the fabric tape.

His pom-pom could also be made from red tissue paper and either attached using double sided tape or strong glue.

Pumpkin Carving (with adult help)

Animals have always been friends to soldiers for hundreds of years. Pumpkin cats aren't too tricky to make with adult help and you can make the ears and feet from bits of leftover pumpkin.

You'll need

- Pumpkin
- Pumpkin carving kit - to be used with an adult
- Light - LED lights are ideal
- Cocktail sticks for attaching cat ears and feet

Make some camouflage topped Rice Crispy Treats!

Ingredients:

- 50g butter
- 200g white marshmallows
- 150g crisped rice cereal e.g. Rice Krispies
- Green, black and brown icing pens

How to make:

1. Melt butter in large saucepan over low heat. Add marshmallows and stir until melted and well blended. Cook 2 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Remove from heat.
2. Add cereal. Stir until well coated.
3. Using buttered spatula or greaseproof paper, press mixture evenly and firmly in buttered 20 x 30cm tin.
4. When cool decorate the top with icing pens to create a camouflage effect.
5. Cut into squares.

Make a plastic toy soldier costume

You will need:

- Pair of green elastic waisted trousers and a green shirt (both a size too big)
- Pair of green Wellingtons
- Green safari style hat
- Cardboard to make the stand
- 2x cardboard tubes/cylinders for binoculars or real binoculars if you have some binoculars or real binoculars if you have some

How to make

1. If you don't have a green shirt, trousers, Wellingtons or hat you could cover an old shirt, pair of trousers and Wellingtons with duct tape and spray them with green paint to give them a green plastic look. Remember to check with an adult before painting!
2. Draw a stand shape on the cardboard, cut this out and then paint it green.
3. Paint your cardboard tubes green to make binoculars.
4. Paint your neck, face and hands green with temporary body paint.

Make your own Where's Wally? photo booth props

You'll need:

- Cardboard, white paint or paper
- Red paper, marker or paint
- Black marker
- Sticks to hold the props (wooden skewers work well)
- Tape or strong glue

To make:

1. Draw a woollen hat or beanie shape onto cardboard.
Remember to include a circular pompom shape at the top.
2. Cut out the hat shape you've drawn.
3. Colour the bottom of the beanie and the pompom with red paint or marker or glue some red paper to create the stripe.
4. Colour the space in between the pompom and the stripe white using paint or by gluing on white paper.
5. Draw a pair of glasses on cardboard and then cut out.
6. Paint the space inside the glasses white or glue on white paper. Leave to dry if painting. Use a black marker to draw an outline of the glasses shape, the bridge (which sits on the nose) and pupils.
7. Attach the glasses and hat prop to a wooden skewer with strong glue or tape.

Create your own Where's Wally? spooky scene

Every Wally scene needs a good setting so create your own spooky one! Start by drawing the surroundings, and then draw lots of people. Remember to make sure Wally is coloured in and well hidden among the crowd. Then ask your family to see if they can find him!
